

Albè Martina

Martina Albè is an expert in civil, commercial and bankruptcy law with considerable experience in particular in corporate litigation and ADR (Alternative Dispute Resolution).

Martina offers out-of-court consultancy and legal assistance to private clients, businesses (national and foreign) and collective procedure bodies.

After graduating in law from Bocconi University of Milan, Martina immediately focussed on corporate law, concentrating in particular on the liability of corporate bodies. Martina has assisted and continues to assist both Liquidators in bankruptcy procedures and collective procedures to bring liability suits against company management and auditing bodies, and the members of such bodies with suits brought against them by collective procedures, shareholders and creditors.

With an eternal passion for wine, Martina is a member of the AIS (Italian Sommelier Association) and has also completed a Masters in Wine Law and Tax run by the 24ORE Business School, meaning she is equally qualified to offer legal consultancy to businesses operating in wine-making.

Martina is an expert in the matter and assistant with commercial law at the University of Milano-Bicocca.
